

Garry Miller is passionate about creating competitive advantage and developing international trade.

... increasingly business success depends upon a company's ability to innovate and profitably exploit its competitive advantage. This aspiration is central to Garry's advisory philosophy.

Garry is a highly resourceful and driven individual with proven abilities working at strategic and operational levels across wide ranging industrial and commercial sectors in the international markets of Asia Pacific and notably the UK and Europe where he has worked extensively for over 25 years.

Garry combines his extensive knowledge of innovation and design management with an ambitious and astute marketing approach that consistently delivers results. Garry holds the international status of Chartered Marketer with the UK Chartered Marketing Institute and is a Certified Practising Marketer with the Australian Marketing Institute. Clients are assured of the highest standards of professional practise and the most current marketing thinking.

Garry has amassed practical experience of advising clients in their entry and exploitation of markets in the UK, Europe, UAE, USA, Canada and Asia Pacific. Personable and with an ability to see the bigger picture, Garry is a champion of networking, and strategic alliance development, always finding the most suitable methods and approaches to deliver profitable results.

For those clients with ambition to succeed, Garry matches this with unparalleled energy, innovative thinking and an expertise to assist them in the development of domestic and international trade. He has been instrumental in spearheading sales development for client companies and leading missions abroad.
